OPTIMAL IDM PARTNERS WITH QUEST SOFTWARE

LAND O'LAKES, FL - (MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 2007): Optimal IdM LLC, a leading provider of identity management consulting and software solutions, today announced a new business alliance with Quest Software, recent winner of Microsoft's 2007 Global Independent Software Vendor Partner of the Year Award.

Optimal IdM is teaming up with Quest in both a sales and delivery capacity. "We are pleased to be joining forces with Quest Software. Quest's robust and innovative software builds on the identity management solutions that we deliver today," said John Maring, Managing Partner of Optimal IdM, LLC.

"Our expertise in deploying Microsoft MIIS/ILM and Web Single Sign-on (SSO) solutions makes partnering with Quest a natural fit," added Kristina Girard, Director of Partners & Alliances for Optimal IdM, LLC.

Quest Software provides identity management software solutions that help organizations manage accounts across platforms using Microsoft's Active Directory. Its identity management capabilities also include password management, auditing and provisioning.

"Partnering with Optimal IdM brings an added dimension to our existing offering," said Michael Harris, Group Manager of North American Partners at Quest Software. "Optimal IdM's proven deployment methodology (AIM™ Methodology) along with Quest's industry leading solution help customers reduce costs and risks in their identity management projects."

The formal agreement between Optimal IdM and Quest Software, signed in August, benefits both organizations by allowing them to expand their offerings in the fast-paced identity management industry.
